Rochester Lions Dedicate Ramp

HANDICAPPED RAMP TO SENIOR CITIZENS

The Rochester Lions held a dedication ceremony at the Rochester Town Hall for the new handicapped ramp. The Lions Club has held several fund-raisers over the past two years to raise money needed to supply the materials needed for the 39' foot ramp. The ramp was constructed by students of the Old Colony Regional Vocational-Technical High School. Lions Club members mixed and poured the concrete apron.

Taking part in the ceremony were Rochester Lions Club President Charles Frates who presented Mr. John Oliveira, Superintendent of Old Colony, with a Lions plaque citing the students for their excellent craftsmanship under the guidance of Instructor Robert Francis.

Mr. Leo Carreau, member of the Rochester Council on Aging and the Senior Citizens' Club, officially declared the ramp open by cutting the ribbon. David Hughes, Selectman for the town, thanked the Lions for their generosity and stated that now all town buildings are accessible to the handicapped. This is especially important as future receipts of Revenue Sharing Funds could have been in jeopardy without the access ramp.

Club Secretary Harry Brown and chairman of the project invited the many Senior Citizens taking part to walk the ramp with him to the Conference Room where voting will take place. He asked them to walk the ramp on voting day and cast their votes for the person or persons of their choice.

For the past several years the Lions Club has provided the funds and/or material to

Selectmen's Meeting MATTAPOISETT

SEPTEMBER 11, 1984 - by VIRGINIA ARRAL

TREES TO BE CUT DOWN - MOST OF THEM ROTTEN, TREE WARDEN SAYS

Wesley Bowman, Tree Warden, presented Selectmen last Tuesday with a list of 11 trees that need to be cut down and the total cost of the project.

Bowman said, "The biggest problem is just plain rot - some trees are dead and pose a danger if they should be blown down." Bowman added that if there is any good fire wood he will give it to whomever wants it.

Selectmen Chairman John DeCosta explained the board will seek a transfer of funds to cover the total cost of $3,876. The cost includes three days' use of the bucket truck or crane, $350.; use of the stumper for one day, $350.; and two days' labor and truck, $1,248. DeCosta stressed only the critical ones will be cut down.

Trees on the following streets are targeted to be cut down: North Street near the Darrah home, 27 North Street, Oakland Street, Foster and Beacon Streets, Freeman Street, Pearl Street, Hammond Street, Depot Street, Mattapoisett Neck Road, River Road and Perry Avenue.

The tree warden said he would be the first one to want to save trees, but that these are either beyond saving or they interfere with safe passage on the sidewalk.

In other business, Selectmen:

ANNOUNCED a final decision in the six-year old court case of the Mattapoisett School Committee versus Mrs. Marjorie Springgate and the DES (Department of Employment Security).

Town Counsel Donald J. Fleming informed the board by letter that the State Judicial Court recently ruled that the finding of the DES will stand since the findings of the school committee do not preclude a distinct finding by the Director of the DES.

Fleming suggested to the school committee that the payment of the outstanding bill of DES should be paid. The approximate cost is $5,000 plus; the exact amount is not known at this time because there will be accrued interest.

In June 1978 the Mattapoisett School Committee terminated Mrs. Springgate as a teacher at Old Hammondtown School. A court case brought by Mrs. Springgate to get her job back was decided in the town's favor. However, the committee will have to pay for employment security as ordered by the court.

Her appointment was made at the recommendation of Pauline who said this end of town needs better coverage of shellfish violations. She will be available to serve as deputy in any area of town, as needed by Pauline, DeCosta noted. She will be paid by the hour.

AGREED to abate the bills for ambulance service as requested at a previous meeting.

ACCEPTED an invitation from Jack Sylvia, chairman of the Fin, Fur and Feather Club, to attend a wild game supper and meeting at the club on September 20th. The meeting will be held to discuss the proposed legislation plans for the dam at the Herring Weir. Also invited are the selectmen of Marion and Rochester, members of the Water Valley Committee and water superintendents.

WERE NOTIFIED by the state Department of Public Works that $19,694 is available to the town under Chapter 90. DeCosta explained the money will be available indefinitely and will be used when needed by the highway department.

AGREED to allow the Old Rochester Regional School District to use $20,000 in its Surplus Fund Account for preliminary architect plans for repairs to the junior high school roof. The sum will be reimbursed when the school committee receives the $150,000 emergency grant from the state. This action was taken on the advice of the ORR Financial Advisory Committee which is partially comprised of one selectmen from each of the three towns.

POSTPONED action on the access to the Olde Towne Trail until members of the board have had an opportunity to view the problem.

A difference of opinion resulted when Fire Chief Donald Wood, driving the chief's car, not a truck, viewed the trail with Executive Secretary Carol Adams. Mrs. Adams told selectmen Wood felt the roadway was passable for fire trucks.

At a previous meeting Selectmen heard other opinions that the roadway was impassable because of debris left following a clearing operation to the property of Edwin Livingstone.

Mrs. Adams said in her opinion the roadway still posed hazard to fire trucks. She also said that Mike Soares, who did the cutting for Livingstone, has not been in the area since April, but that others have been cutting in there.

Revision Committee to address the inadequacies which had come to light during our search for a new pastor. After many meetings, the Committee asked the Annual Meeting members in 1984 for direction for further study. A motion by David Goodenough was approved as follows: "To instruct the By-Laws Committee to develop by-laws for one organizational structure with special attention to developing by-laws which will retain names of historical significance and make membership broad enough to include former Precinct Members in a category of membership."

The Committee, with the invaluable assistance of the Rev. Raymond Patch, has completed a set of by-laws which accompany this letter. These will be presented for action by a duly called joint meeting of Church and Precinct at 7:00 p.m. on October 28, 1984.

An opinion offered by Attorney Howard Young after researching our records at the office of the Secretary of State suggested that we are free to rewrite our by-laws in any standard way, provided the revisions are approved at a properly called meeting. If the proposed new by-laws are approved for adoption, we would hope that they would be implemented at the next regular Annual Meeting.

Please study the accompanying by-laws and bring them with you to the meeting at 7:00 p.m. on October 28. The major changes involve restructuring and increasing responsibilities of the Church Council. They reflect the impressions of the Committee that the current Church Council has been relatively ineffective. Most of the standing committees have been left unchanged except for those changes requested or suggested by the members of the present committees. The Committee members will be glad to hear your comments and suggestions.

Success Story

EDITORIAL, DCJ

The other day, in casual conversation, a subject came up which has been celebrated very little to my knowledge. Yet, it has to be one of the most sensational successes of any modern law - the Bottle Bill.

Remember the savage attacks on the bottle bill and the dire predictions of the terrible toll which would result both economically and personally. It is hard to remember because none of these things happened. Sure it is a nuisance for all who use containers. To be personally responsible for gathering up and returning bottles and cans is one of life's little chores and there will always be some who will have none of it. The slovenly still heave bottles and cans wherever they are emptied in spite of the incentive to return them. Yet, because of that same incentive, others gather them up and bring them back because 20 bottles or cans add up to a buck. So, the buck is passed from the careless to whomever values it. Who benefits? We all benefit. There has been a dramatic change in the streets and roads of Massachusetts. Before the bottle bill, strangers could be excused for thinking that our roads were paved with broken glass and that cans grew on and fell from the trees.

A daily chore for many was the plucking of both from bushes and grass around the home.

The Massachusetts public deserves a vote of thanks for a vote for individual responsibility which is one definition of the bottle bill. If nothing else this law demonstrates the fact that if it is made worthwhile to be responsible, it will be accomplished one way or another. If politicians knew this, it might solve more than the problem of glass in the streets.

For example: a friend mentioned that in one state welfare payments are tied to inspections of dwellings of recipients living in public housing projects. The apartment in good condition rates the highest rate of public assistance. In spite of great protest, this system has dramatically reduced the rate that welfare housing deteriorates and that projects are destroyed.

ORR ATHLETICS - FROM THE ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT

Our 1984-85 athletic season has exploded with students in all areas. Our communities, parents, and citizens have increased their interest and involvement for young people in school, academics, activities, and athletics; and are relying on them to provide a well-rounded education and development of character.

With more parents working and many one parent households, the time in school becomes extremely important to the student's growth.

environments which place responsibility and demands on students and are contributors to mental and physical growth. The work demands in athletics are paralleled to real life. Each of us faces the task of assuming our daily workload whether we feel well or not. We learn about time schedules, caring for our equipment, keeping ourselves clean and healthy, and budgeting the time in our day between all our duties.

Athletes learn to accept the successful days, but more importantly learn to recover and work through those unsuccessful days or events. All of us face these situations throughout our lives.

Student-Athletes learn to accept rules and regulations to be followed in practice and during the games. They learn to interact with adults at many levels and become very conscious that hard work does pay off. Their health and learning about proper physical care will only benefit them in the long run.

Students come to us in many different sizes, shapes, abilities, and backgrounds; yet through athletics, they are able to bring together all those different people into a successful unit. That is most important in life, on our jobs, and with our families and friends.

Today's athletes are both female and male, have not played sports before, or may have experienced some Little League play, have a knowledge of the game, or are picking up the sport and trying it for the first time.

Our staff has accepted all of them, has worked through all their differences and skills, and have developed, first and foremost, well educated athletes with fine character.

After all, the primary goal of athletics is not the scoreboard, but the development of the young person. We are most proud of our success in this area. Beyond this, our small size school has achieved some tremendous successes at the local and state levels. We have many athletes involved at the college level in many sports throughout the country.

We must always remember that the most important asset in our lives, neighborhoods, and communities, is our children, and they belong to all of us. Investing in them is investing in our future.

This fall we already have these numbers of youngsters involved in our programs as competitors, scorers, managers, statisticians, and video operators: Football, 82; Soccer, 51: Volleyball, 45; Field Hockey, 61; Boys Cross Country, 21; Girls Cross Country, 18; Cheerleading, 14.

Changes in our programs have happened in the areas of football and volleyball. Football has developed an entirely new program, training procedure, and has brought back some familiar people to join the coaching staff.

One such person is Ed Walsh who coached here for many years and will assume the role of first assistant coach. Steve Heath, an ORR graduate and former football captain, has joined our staff.

In volleyball, Sue Wheeler has picked the reins as head coach with Brenda Coulson handling the J.V.'s.

Information concerning scheduled and games may be obtained from the athletic office.

shows, a flea market and entertainment by Cape Cod folk singer R. C. O'Leary. One of the festival's highlights will be an outdoor performance by the Woods Hole Dance Company.

The festival focuses on the rare Franklinia tree, one of the few to flower in autumn. Named in honor of Ben Franklin, this tree grows in the wild only in one part of Georgia. Ashumet's Franklinia trees are the result of seeds and cuttings taken from that spot by colonial plant explorers.

The Franklinia Festival is sponsored by the Friends of Ashumet. Refreshments, including homemade clam chowder and hot dogs, will be available. Admission for the event is $1.50 for adults, 75 cents for children under 11, and free to Mass. Audubon members. Proceeds will be used to maintain the sanctuary.

Indoor house plants are a little like people. Sometimes they don't want or need a drink. Florists will tell you overwatering is the number one killer of plants.

- Push a thumb or finger into the soil to a depth of about an inch. If the soil is dry, watering is needed.
- When watering, moisten the soil thoroughly... until you see water draining out the openings at the bottom of the container. If the pot is in a saucer, drain the excess fluid.
- Use water that is lukewarm and free of salt.

Mr. Wilson is an internationally recognized authority on glass, whose publications include New England Glass and Glassmaking, American Bottles and Flasks, many magazine articles, and a text-in-progress on the Glass of the Mount Washington Glass Company of New Bedford. Prior to his appointment to the Henry Ford Museum in 1973, Mr. Wilson was Curator and Assistant Director of The Corning Museum of Glass, as well as Chief Curator at Old Sturbridge Village. He is a past President of the National Early American Glass Club.

The remaining lectures in this year's series continue the emphasis on New England regional glass from the latter three quarters of the 19th century.

FALL PROGRAMS AND REGISTRATION

The Greater New Bedford YMCA will be kicking off its fall session the week of September 17th with a wide variety of programs and activities for all ages. The YMCA has broadened its scope of programming this fall by opening up a new Nautilus exercise center, restructuring its swimming instruction program, and adding new exciting classes for preschoolers, youth, teens, adults and families.

The new YMCA Nautilus Center, equipped with thirteen different stations, exercise bicycles and staffed by trained, qualified instructors, offers both men and women, young and old alike, the opportunity to follow a personalized workout routine, designed and guided by the Nautilus staff. The YMCA Nautilus Center is the newest addition to a comprehensive and well-rounded fitness program that the YMCA offers with over seven different types of exercise classes, aimed at meeting the variety of needs and interests that today's adult wants. There is the Water Aerobics program that includes both aerobic and stretching exercises in the water for the swimmer and the non-swimmer alike. Aerobex, one of the YMCA's more popular programs, is a high-level, coed aerobic class set to popular music, developed and conducted by the YMCA Fitness Director, Jean McNerney. Flex is an exercise class for men and women designed to increase strength, flexibility and tone all body parts. tion, or AIM, is also conducted in surrounding communities in local facilities.

A special Senior Citizen Fitness class, similar to AIM, offers anyone 55 years or older a special exercise program, while the Y's Way to a Healthy Back, an exercise program composed of a series of movements that focus on muscle relaxation, flexibility and strengthening, is led by certified teachers for those who suffer from back discomfort.

You and Me Baby is a prenatal and postnatal exercise class with proven, isometric/isotonic exercises for both pregnant women 2 to 8 months and recently delivered moms and their babies up to 3 months. A new fitness class has been added this fall that incorporates strength and flexibility exercises with a progressive series of walking and/or jogging.

This fall the Greater New Bedford YMCA has restructured its aquatic program to follow the national YMCA's Progressive Swimming Program for ages six months though adults. Proven across the country, the program strongly believes that people learn by doing. A minimum of talking and a maximum of swimming is a basic principle, as well as allowing the him/her to learn and progress at their own rate. It has been discovered by YMCAs and other organizations involved in teaching beginning swimming that a flotation device and a flutter board are extremely effective in freeing the beginner from his fear of deep water and thus allowing him to concentrate on learning. Just as important are basic safety and survival skills that are built into the different levels, such as survival floating, mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, non-swimming lifesaving assists. The YMCA offers parent-child water orientation classes for children under three years, pre-school and youth progressive instruction with levels from Tadpole and Polliwog through Shark and Porpoise, adult instruction including a class, Swimming for the Terrified, for those who dread the

All cars in Class E are for exhibit only; no prizes will be awarded in that category. All autos should be pre-registered for showing.

The afternoon concert by Pandolfi's 20-piece band will be held under a tent on the special events ground below the windmill.

The Heritage Plantation car collection in the Round Barn boasts a new star this year. The 1932 Auburn Boattail Speedster has been freshly restored in a stunning color combination -- authentic Auburn colors of the thirties. And again this year, we have several seasonal exhibits which will also be open to the public the day of the car show.

Come and enjoy an exciting day at the Museum. Picnic grounds are located outside the main gate, so bring the whole family and a picnic lunch.

Membership and admission tickets for the day will be honored for the car show and will include admission to all the museum buildings, exhibitions and grounds.

Tickets are $5. for adults and $2.00 for children 12 and under; free for children five and under.

Heritage Planation is three miles from the Cape Cod Sagamore Bridge, take first right of off Route 6, turn right at first traffic light on Route 6A, then proceed to Route 130 and bear right. Watch for signs to Heritage Plantation.

Zeiterion Activities

On September 25-30 the Zeiterion Theatre in New Bedford will open its 3rd Performing Arts Season with the spectacular production, Man of La Mancha. Featuring a dynamic New York cast, this Zeiterion production will mark the start of a fabulous entertainment season.

This Broadway musical has been hailed by critics throughout the country as a bold, imaginative and inspiring work of art.

as he awaits the Inquisition. Seeking to retrieve his prize possession, an incompleted manuscript called "Don Quixote", Cervantes offers the "court" a defense in the form of entertainment, and with his loyal friend Sancho, together with the prisoners, they re-enact the tale of Don Quixote.

Don Quixote is played by actor/singer William Brockmeier. A seasoned professional, Brockmeier has performed off-Broadway and in numerous regional, stock and dinner theatres. Brockmeier holds a M.M. in Voice from the New England Conservatory and his vocal talents have won him leading opera roles.

Quixote's lady, Aldonza, is played by actress Carolyn Marlow. Her long list of credentials include roles on Broadway in Sweeney Todd, off-Broadway, and in numerous national tours, stock and dinner theatres.

Man of La Mancha is being produced by the Zeiterion Theatre in association with International Theatre Consultants of New York City. Derek Wolshonak will direct. His performance credits include Broadway, television, film, off-Broadway and national tours.

Performances start at 8:00 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday, with matinees starting at 3:00 p.m. on Thursday, Saturday and Sunday. Tickets for all weekday performances and matinees are $10., $12. and $14.; and tickets for Friday and Saturday evening are $12., $14. and $16. Senior/child discounts are available. For tickets call the Zeiterion Theatre Box Office at 994-2900.
